Ventilation in classrooms and the school. (Update 17 Oct. 2020 + 13 Nov. 2020.)	Adults and pupils.	258. As the year draws on and the temperature drops it will remain important for some windows in classrooms to remain open and doors to be open (although closed for fire-safety reasons when the teacher and class leave). Pupils will therefore be able to wear coats in classrooms, but not hats or gloves. (Parents/carers to be advised to ensure that pupils come dressed appropriately.) (Fire doors should normally be closed; HOWEVER; WHERE AREAS ARE OCCUPIED- providing staff are briefed to only keep open whilst area/vicinity is in use, there is robust monitoring on procedure, the Fire Risk Assessment is amended and records of briefing to staff maintained, then fire doors can be kept open to improve ventilation.) Clinically extremely vulnerable pupils (Update 5 th Nov. 2020 + 13 th Nov. 2020) GOV.UK - What parents/carers need to know about early years providers schools and colleges COVID-19	Parents or guardians for children that are clinically extremely vulnerable will have received a letter and advice from a doctor/clinician	262. Those children whose doctors have confirmed they are still clinically extremely vulnerable are advised not to attend education whilst the national restrictions are in place. Such pupils are not to attend school. The schools will make appropriate arrangements to enable these pupils to continue their education at home. More evidence has emerged that shows there is a very low risk of children becoming very unwell from coronavirus (COVID-19), even for children with existing health conditions. Most children originally identified as clinically extremely vulnerable no longer need to follow original shielding advice and can continue to attend nursery, school or college in this period. DSL	L. Pregnant workers/new and expectant mothers contracting Corona virus, whilst at work or using public transport. (Update at 13 th Nov. 2020)	Infection of Covid 19 and resultant illness with a wide range of symptoms. The effects of this disease are still being learned about and can vary. The NHS say there is no evidence that pregnant women are more likely to get seriously ill from coronavirus. However, as a precaution they have been included in the list of those at moderate risk (clinically vulnerable).	268. Discussion with the new or expectant mother should take place before any physical return to the school/workplace. Carry out New and Expectant Mothers Risk Assessment (use Briefing Version 6). Current government and NHS advice is that pregnant workers are in the clinically vulnerable (CV) group. They are not defined as clinically extremely vulnerable , and may continue to attend school in line with current guidance. Those individuals who are defined clinically extremely vulnerable (CEV) are advised to work from home and not to go into work. Individuals in this group will have been identified through a letter from the NHS or from their GP, and may have been advised to shield in the past. Staff should talk to their employers about how they will be supported, including to work from home where possible, during the period of national restrictions. Expectant mothers can return to work as long as there is a Covid 19 risk assessment and control measures in place for the school.
